

OBJECTIVE.....

Designing beyond the limits of physical space and reaching into the imagination, spirituality, and emotion.
Finding the story, developing the concept, and providing the common thread which weaves all elements: material, light, volume, and graphics.
Giving lasting meaning to design by combining place, culture, and memories that in turn define our humanity.

EDUCATION.....

University of Idaho, MArch, Moscow, Idaho 1999

As an Environmental Graphic Designer (or sign designer), I have worked in a variety of construction types ranging from hospital to commercial buildings. My strength is my ability to find the story within the Architecture and what the Client intends, and to bring that idea into physical form.

ARCHITECTURAL EXPERIENCE

nbbj, 111 S Jackson St Seattle, Wa. 98104 2002-2005

- Children's Hospital of Orange County, Clinic Remodel
For the Children's Hospital of Orange County, I developed the concept around Shel Silverstien's poem "Where the Sidewalk Ends". The "sidewalk" became an element in the Clinic that served as a play area for patients.
